December 2023

FROM THE HELM

Fellow SBCC Members and Associates!

The Holiday Party has come and gone, and what remains of this year seems to be slipping away quickly. We had a grand time at the Holiday Party. I was barely able to even begin making my way around the room to greet folks and say hello when Wendy elbowed me and pointed at her watch. "It's 9:00... when are you doing the general meeting?" "What!?" The first three hours had passed so quickly—it felt like a microcosm of these last two years. I am still struggling to understand how the last two years went by so fast. I can honestly say that I enjoyed every bit of serving as your Commodore. I think we had fun, which is the whole point! This club continues to be a source of joy and friendship for us here at the Frederick house, and we're looking forward to many more years of cruising and partying with you all.

Programs has a great event planned for Sunday January 7th at 1:30 at the West Islip Library – a presentation entitled "How to Make Your Boat Go Faster" by Duncan and Barbara Burns. This seminar is targeted for racers and cruiser alike; we cruisers can always use a little help squeezing some extra speed out of our rigs. I understand Duncan and Barbara will also cover some topics directed at cruisers specifically, so please make the time to come join us!

Also, I've scheduled our kick-off planning session for the 2024 Two-Week cruise! Please join us at the West Islip Library on Sunday January 14th at 2:30 to begin plotting our course for the summer cruise!

We also have racing awards and cruising awards events coming up quickly, and of course our new Flag Officer's installation luncheon will be in January. Keep your eyes peeled for notifications for these events. We hope to see you out there.

I'm confident that I am able to speak for the Club in offering a heartfelt thank you to Jeff for his outstanding leadership for the past two years!

HOLIDAY PARTYPhotos by Stephanie Pizer*

The 2023 Holiday Party held on December 9th at Shandon Court in East Islip was attended by 80 guests. It was great to see a very nice mix of racers, cruisers, and new members. Guests enjoyed an open bar with top shelf liquor, a sit down dinner and an ice cream bar to cap off the meal! Musical entertainment was provided by Scott Gesele. A good time was had by all!

Save the date for a seminar given by Duncan and Barbara Burns on Sunday January 7 at 1:30 pm at the West Islip Library. Many know Duncan and Barbara from their many podium finishes racing with Bill Cook on Merry Ann in the Tuesday Night BSIR races.

This will be a great way to start the new year. There will be topics discussed for both racers and cruisers alike. Refreshments will be served also. I know it's a busy time of the year for everyone, so I will send a reminder as the date grows near.

FROM THE CO-HOSPITALITY CHAIRS*Susan Moran and Jeran Sidebottom

It's been a busy time for the Hospitality Committee! The Annual Della's Cookie Party (so named for a senior member of the team) was held for the second year in a row since the pandemic on December 7th. The team came with lasagna (a must!), salads, appetizers, soup, and all sorts of goodies, in keeping with the tradition of this event. They also came with cookies: pecan sandies, snickerdoodles, chocolate chips, oatmeal, pirouettes, and all sorts of others by the dozens to become the favors for the Holiday Party! Thanks to Stephanie and Jay Pizer for hosting this lovely event!

Then on to the Holiday Party, held at Shandon Court in Islip on December 9th. A sit-down dinner with passed hors d'oeuvres with 80 of our friends and fellow club members. It was a great opportunity to share stories of the season that just ended, plans for improvements while wintering, and beginning to think about next season! It's what we do best: think about sailing, plan for sailing, and actually sailing while enjoying the atmosphere and camaraderie of friends. Stephanie and Jay Pizer took the lead for this event as they have for several years and, as always, did a incredible job!

Thank you to everyone who helped make this season so special. From the Spring Party to Commissioning Day to the Blast and the Boatyard Party and, finally, to the Holiday Party we were boosted by our Committee in ways great, small, and everything in between. Thank you, Thank you, Thank you!

FROM THE REGATTA CAPTAIN*Charlie Margeson

The Annual GSBYRA Awards Dinner was held at the Sayville Yacht Club on November 18th. It was well attended with representatives from yacht clubs all around the Great South Bay. Scott and Wendy Gesele (SBCC Vice Commodore and SBCC Recording Secretary) and myself as Regatta Captain represented the SBCC this year. Rob Gutmann, President of the GSBYRA (and SBCC Board member) officiated the awards presentation which included a Life Long Service Award to MaryAnn Deering. The Deering family have been a very influential sailing family on the Bay for many, many years. It was a very nice evening and our congratulations to all awards recipients!

In closing, I want to thank all who assisted in making this such a successful racing season. We have a very strong Regatta program due to the continued support of our Board and the commitment of everyone on the Regatta Committee. I look forward to continuing our program in 2024 after our winter break!

I hope to see you at the Racing Awards party which will be held on Thursday, January 25th at The Gull. I'll be sending notice of the details out shortly.

All the Best for the Holiday Season!

FROM THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY*Joe Werkmeister

As many of you already know, I will be turning over the reigns of the Masthead to a new editor in 2024. The past four years have been fantastic for me as a Club Board Member. Developing the Masthead into it's current iteration has been a great experience for me. It has enabled me to become very much entrenched in the operations of the Club and has afforded me a gateway to meeting and befriending many Club members. The Masthead has brought me many accolades, which are very much appreciated, but it would not have been possible without the contributions of many of our members. The ideas for enhancements came from the suggestions you have made and were spawned after conversations had with many of you! Thank you for your constant support and encouragement! I look very much forward to my new roll as Fleet Captain but will definitely miss the Masthead. However, I am very happy to be turning over to very capable hands and will assist Jeff Frederick, our new editor, through the transition process. I look forward to what the future brings for the SBCC Masthead!

FROM THE CO-WELCOMING CHAIRS*Michele Jaeger and Sandy Carlberg

We are happy to welcome our last confirmed members for 2023.

Will Lovelock and Teymaum Bowen sail MariTime, a Hunter 23 out of Babylon. They were introduced to the club by Jackie Scoglio and Mike Quinn. Scott Gesele enjoyed a pleasant conversation with them at the Boat Yard Party. They have been sponsored by Jackie, Mike, and Scott and are beginning their sailing adventures as members of our club.

Marie Lindell sails Our Dreamliner, a Catalina 32 berthed in Patchogue. Marie has a passion for sailing and has been seen single handedly sailing her boat. Her interest lies in cruising with us and joining a group to sail on the Two-Week cruise this coming season. Marie was sponsored by Joe Werkmeister and Scott Gesele.

These are our newest 2023 members and we are so pleased they have decided to join us as full members.

Once again, as the year comes to a close, I would like to recognize those members celebrating a significant anniversary. Congratulations to all, and thank you for your continuing support of the South Bay Cruising Club!

Unfortunately, some of our Members passed during the year but to honor their long term service to the Club, I have included them on this list. (Indicated with an asterisk.)

SCUTTLEBUTT

The SBCC Gulf Coast chapter had a Rendezvous at Belle Baxter's house in Bradenton on November 18th. Also in attendance were Ed and Helen Pshedesky, Charlie and Barbara Becker, Roger and Peg Daisley, and Laurie and Gaspare Messina. In true SBCC fashion there was plenty of food and drink, not to mention a lot of catching up. Everyone had a wonderful time.

Fred and Mara Liesegang have recently retired and have headed out on their RV adventure. Plans include visiting family and friends in parts South and West but primarily they are "winging it." We look forward to their return to Long Island in the spring at which time they plan to begin phase two of their retirement adventures, circumnavigating the Great Loop.

SBCC HISTORY—circa 1996*Submitted by Joe Werkmeister

In memory of the recently passed former Commodore, Barry Pittman.

The Commodore's messages over the last ten years have focused on the South Bay Cruising Club's rich history. It certainly is worthwhile to reflect upon a few of our accomplishments. We sent an Armada to the Bicentennial celebration and won a trophy for having the most participating boats in the 'Around Long Island Regatta.' Our annual cruises extend as far as Newport, Nantucket, and Maine. We have the largest big boat racing program on the bay. As a club, we should be very proud of our history and our place on the bay. However, we should also be cognizant of who we are as a club and as individuals.

If you drive through most America, there are often the communities they exist in. Cruising Club has left its South Bay without any such green and white burgee, and and one another that has being left on these waters.

small towns in North buildings that lend insight to Remarkably, the South Bay indelible mark on the Great edifice. It is our boats, our our collective love of sailing resulted in our imprimatur

We are a hearty, individualistic, and rugged lot of characters. We all have at least one thing in common an auxiliary sailboat. As a means of transportation, it is archaic. In today's hustle and bustle world, who would "race" or cruise tens or hundreds of miles at 5 or 6 knots? Each Spring, we congregate at boat yards bordering the bay to wash, wax, paint, and repair these propped up vessels, often in cold and wet weather. As the season progresses, many of us will at least once confront the anxiety of sailing in severe weather or piloting through fog or a rocky shoreline. Not withstanding these lonely and uncomfortable minutes or hours, we reach our destinations, watch the sunset, and eat, drink, and exchange stories with our fellow club members.

There is no denying the special bond these experiences foster among us and with our children, spouses, and friends. These "summer vacations" and racing events are not for everyone. In a way, we are very special people. We have developed the self-confidence and seamanship that allows us to confront the vicissitudes of the sea knowing we can do it safely and enjoyably. For those of us who love it, sailing is not just a sport but a way of life. We should be very proud of who we are; a congregation of sailors united by our boats instead of a clubhouse. I anxiously await the moment I can launch Drumshanbo, hoist the Commodore's flag, and sail the bay among you.

CELEBRITY SAILORS—WALTER CRONKITE*Joe Werkmeister

The following story highlighting Walter Cronkite's passion for sailing was compiled from articles published in yachtingmagazine.com (July 22, 2009) and CoastalBoating.net (Date unknown.)

Throughout his professional career his kind demeanor and journalistic integrity led to his unofficial title of "the most trusted man in America." However, it was during his time off the air that Cronkite took to the sea to pursue one of his favorite passions: sailing. An avid, lifelong sailor, Cronkite would sail in the waters around his house in Martha's Vineyard during the summer months, and the Caribbean in the winter. Over the course of his life he owned several boats, including a Westsail 42, and Camper & Nicholson's 60, a Sunward 48, and a Hinckley 64 ketch, all named Wyntje, after the first woman to marry a Cronkite in the new world.

In 2006, Cronkite was honored with the SeaKeeper's Society SeaKeeper Award for his contributions to protecting and improving marine environments. In his 1996 autobiography, A Reporter's Life, he wrote: "Sailing for me has satisfied many urges. For one thing, it feeds the Walter Mitty in me, that inner heroism with which James Thurber endowed his unforgettable character. I never sail from harbor without either having a load of tea for Southampton or orders from the admiral to pursue that villain Long John Silver and his rapacious crew. I love the challenge of the open sea, the business of confronting Mother Nature and learning to live compatibly with her, avoiding if possible her excesses but always being prepared to weather them." Walter Cronkite will always be remembered as the man who brought the news to the American people, the man for whom the term "news anchor" was coined, a passionate yachtsman, and a true champion of the sea. And that's the way it is.

As an avid sailor of his then 48-foot yacht, Wyntje, Mr. Cronkite chronicled his experiences sailing waterways from the Chesapeake Bay to Key West in his book South by Southeast (1983), with paintings by artist, Ray Ellis. Other collaborations with Mr. Ellis included North by Northeast (1986), which covered his trips sailing the northeast coastal waterways, and Westwind (1990) he recounted his sailing tour of America's West Coast. Around America, his most recent sailing book, was published in August 2001.

Walter Cronkite was selected by the Vineyard community as a Community Hero, representing the seasonal resident from Edgartown, for his contribution to Sail Martha's Vineyard. For more than 20 years, the Sail with Walter Cronkite had been a highlight of The Possible Dreams Auction, generating thousands of dollars each year for Martha's Vineyard Community Services. When Martha's Vineyard Hospital created an endowment fund, Mr. Cronkite added his voice to the educational video. He was also the host of The Celebration of Heroes educational video honoring residents exemplifying the Vineyard spirit, and he headed up the Edgartown Harbor Clean-Up.

Mr. Cronkite often hosted visiting dignitaries and celebrities including the Clinton Family, the Kennedy family, Prince Edward and many others. He has been an active member of the Edgartown Yacht Club since 1973.

After purchasing his 64-foot yacht, Wyntje, he donated his 48-foot yacht Wyntje to a program for troubled youth that teaches teamwork, discipline, and mutual respect, from the decks of a beautiful sailing ship.

HOW TO SET SHEET BLOCKS FOR MAXIMUM SAIL POWER

SkipperTips.com

Where do your Genoa sheet blocks need to be positioned along the Genoa track? It all starts with a neutral block position. Find the neutral block position where the sheet will apply equal tension on the leech and foot. Follow these easy sailing tips.

The neutral or "starting" sheet block position will give you a starting point for other sheet lead block settings. This position will depend on the relationship between the foot and leech of your Genoa or headsail. You want the Genoa or jib sheet to exert equal amounts of tension along the foot and leech for a good overall shape in moderate sailing conditions.

Most cruising Genoas are 150%, so the leech will be about 50% longer than the foot. Thinner sails like a working jib will need the sheet blocks positioned farther forward to support the longer leech (more on this later).

Pick a day with little to no wind. No need to get underway, you can do this first part in your slip. Unfurl the Genoa or hank on one of your sails. Determine the mid-point of your sail luff. You could mark this with a small piece of removable tape or just estimate the mid-point of the luff by eye.

Bend down in line with the Genoa lead block on one side of the boat. Sight up the sheet to the mid-point of the luff.

Slide the block fore or aft to create an imaginary straight line from the lead block up the sheet through the clew and then to the mid-point of the luff (dotted line in the illustration to the right). Mark the track position with tape or a marker.

Mark the same position on the track on the other side of the boat. Keep both blocks in this neutral position in moderate sailing winds.

Working Jib Neutral Block Position

Thinner sails have longer leeches relative to the foot, so they need more tension along the leech. Sight up the sail to a point about 60% to 70% above the tack. Move the working jib block to this location along the working jib track. Set the block on the opposite side working jib track to this same position. Mark the neutral block position for the working jib on both sides of the boat.

How to Test Sheet Block Position

Test your block positions once you go sailing. Get onto a close hauled course with all luff telltales streaming together. Head up at a slow pace and watch the telltales break (flutter). Do they all break together from top to bottom? If they do, then you have the blocks just right.

If the upper telltales break first, your blocks are too far aft. This places more tension on the foot than the leech. Move the blocks a hole or two toward the bow (Top=Toward). Repeat the test; adjust as necessary until all telltales break even at the same time.

If the lower telltales break first, your blocks are too far forward. This places more tension on the leech than the foot. Move the blocks a hole or two back (Bottom=Back). Repeat the test; adjust as necessary until all telltales break at the same time.

Captain John's Sailing Tip

Take care not to set the blocks too far aft if your bottom telltale breaks first. Keep the leech under good control without too much twist. Watch your knot meter. Trim and check your speed. If your speed increased, you are good to go. If not, try something else. In the end, sail trim will always be about experimentation. Your boat will let you know what she likes.

If the top telltale breaks first, move the block forward (left illustration). If the bottom telltale breaks first, move the block back (right illustration.)
