FROM THE MASTHEAD

At present writing — with Spring creeping across the Bay and the smell of copper paint floating along the waterfront — the 1957 season of the South Bay Cruising Club promises to exceed all others in activity. With 250 members and 150 yachts flying the green and white witching-waves burgee, we can't miss having record turnouts for every event. Participation seems to be the key to it, for the SBCC's distinctive brand of fun and frolic afloat has been successfully built on people — lots of them — all enjoying the same kind of relaxed sailing, racing and cruising.

A brief look at the past winter's log and the upcoming summer's schedule will show there's something of interest for everyone.

If it's a cockpitfull of small sailors you have — all clamouring for a turn at the helm — there's the Junior Sailing Program. Under the leadership of Macklin Boettger, 24 Blue Jay sloops were built during the long winter months. This Cruising Club addition to the Great South Bay Fleet should give added stimulation to the encouragement of sailing and the discouragement of outboards among the young.

The Safety Afloat program, headed by John Jebens, will continue its vital service to members and its contribution to more thoughtful seamanship up and down the Bay. With SBCC craft venturing further and further "out to sea," the idea of a hazardless boat grows in importance.

A new wrinkle was added last year to the Cruising program which promises to grow in popularity — the weekend rendezvous. These brief overnights, at spots such as Hemlock Heading, Great River or Sunken Forest, solve the baby-sitter problem, for the best fun is to bring the children along, letting them camp ashore or sleep on deck. It's less trouble than you expect and more fun than you imagine.

The Annual Cruise this year will attract what we hope will be a record-breaking fleet. Early season indications are that it will be Mystic, Connecticut, and points "Down East" for a number of skippers. In case anyone is dubious about cruising — about the size of his boat or the ability of his wife to cook afloat — we suggest he talk to anyone who has sailed the Cruise before. Lobsters delivered to your boat at Threemile Harbor, the sparkling sail across the Sound to Mystic, or even the plaintive toot of a Long Island Rail Road whistle when you're headed East off Patchogue are all memories hard to beat.

The Racing Program (with its attendant rendezvous schedule) proves year after year to be one of the Club's most popular activities. A new method of assigning time allowances will reflect more accurately a skipper's immediate past performances and thus make for better racing. An interesting postscript to last season's racing was the hitherto unrealized speed displayed by some boats during the Ladies' Race, which probably should result in some changes in certain afterguards and some lively discussions this summer about "how to make this bucket move."

All in all, it looks like a glorious season ahead. Messing about in boats has been described as the best fun in the world. We hope that next October all 250 members of the South Bay Cruising Club can attest to that personally.

This year, the Sixth Annual Cruise will escape the confines of Long Island waters. One plan is to take the fleet to Mystic, Connecticut. In addition, several boats plan to extend their cruise down the New England coast.

The Windjammer Trophy — for the boat traveling farthest under sail — will again be in contention, and several brush races from port-to-port are planned. A skippers' meeting will be held each morning to set up the day's schedule.

The Commodore's Cup Cruise is a relatively new event on the SBCC calendar. The pair of races — Timber Point to Bellport on Saturday — and the Smith Trophy Regatta off Sayville on Sunday — plus overnight rendezvous at Smith Point and Great River put a perfect finishing touch to the regular season on the Bay. Last year several of the skippers added a children's feature to the weekend by bringing the whole family, including moppets under two years old. With camping-ashore facilities at both Smith Point and Great River for the small fry, the cruise proved exceedingly popular with all hands.

SUMMARY OF 1956 ACTIVITIES

The sixth season of the SBCC got under way in the rain -- as usual -- and featured a variety of weird weather usually not found on the Great South Bay: a couple of drifting matches for races; a howling 35-knot Sou'wester; assorted squalls on the cruise; and a Labor Day weekend shrouded in fog. Although the weather was far from perfect, the turnouts at the various events continuously broke all existing records.

Away back in the bleak winter, a bright spot was the Annual Dinner Dance, and the Spring Cocktail Party broke up the usual April routine of scraping and painting. Commissioning Day on June 2 was wet -- both inside and out.

BAY SHORE YACHT CLUB INVITATION REGATTA - JUNE 24

The opening race was a drifter, sailed off Bay Shore, with a well-attended rendezvous in Ed Poor's backyard on Lawrence Creek. Extra Dry, Lady Lou V, Nancee, and Alabab led the fleet of twenty boats in their respective classes.

Results were: Class A: 1. Extra Dry; 2. Lorelei; 3. Reverie; 4. Gull; 5. Morning Star; 6. Golden Eagle; 7. Maumac; 8. Trade Winds; 9. Diana.

Class B: 1. Lady Lou V; 2. Sea Sharp; 3. Cataumet.

Class C: 1. Nancee; 2. Betty; 3. Tranquil; 4. Brandy; 5. Seafarer (DNF).

Class X: 1. Alabab; 2. Three Sisters; 3. Let's Go.

BABYLON YACHT CLUB INVITATION REGATTA - JUNE 30

As part of the Babylon Yacht Club's annual celebration of the Fourth of July, Cruising Club yachts were invited to race on Saturday, June 30, and to rendezvous off the Club dock. Thirty-three boats in four classes sailed in another light southwester with Lorelei, Sea Sharp, Nancee and Alabab leading the way home.

Results were: Class A: 1. Lorelei; 2. Snark; 3. Extra Dry; 4. Reverie; 5. Perriwinkle; 6. Maumac; 7. Golden Eagle; 8. Morning Star; 9. Mary Clyde.

Class B: 1. Sea Sharp; 2. Spindrift; 3. Lively Lady; 4. Serenade; 5. Lady Lou V; 6. Cataumet; 7. Amberjack; 8. Manx; 9. Tondelayo.

Class C: 1. Nancee; 2. Betty; 3. Sea Witch; 4. Semiramis; 5. Chico; 6. Cygnet; 7. Tranquil; 8. Hippo; 9. Brandy; 10. Chiquita.

Class X: 1. Alabab; 2. Gail; 3. #110; 4. #119; 5. Uninvited.

Fifth Annual Cruise

July 14 to 22

The Fifth Annual Cruise of the SBCC got under way in weather that was hardly auspicious -- a squally, rainy southwester that drove most of the scattered fleet to cover up and down the Bay, from Babylon to Smith Point, on Friday night. On Saturday, however, the weather cleared and the fleet joined for its first rendezvous at Cormorant Point under the leadership of Cruise Chairman Captain Fred Becker in Bear of Babylon.

The fleet and complement — the largest yet on an SBCC Cruise — consisted of: Bear of Babylon — Capt. Fred Becker, Pat Becker; Golden Eagle — Commodore Henry Post, Molly Post; Lady Lou V — Capt. John Beinert, Helen Beinert; Halcyon — Capt. Ray Davis, Rex Beach; Seafarer — Capt. Dave Henderson, Ann Henderson; Sassenach — Capt. Jack Held, Joanne Held; Extra Dry — Capt. Julian Davies, Janet Davies, Stu and Charlotte Paterson; Morning Star — Capt. Hervey Smith, "Ma" Huus, Dave deGraff; Maumac — Capt. Mac Boettger, Maureen and Buddy Boettger, Pat and Bea Meehan; Katinka, Sr. — Capt. Merritt Smith, Janet Smith, Everett and Teddy Seidenberg; Chiquita — Capt. Bill Cain, Gloria Cain; Amberjack — Capt. Stuart Baldwin, Sarah Baldwin, Charlie and Jane Laird; The Spicy Isles — Capt. Marston Hamlin, Charlotte Hamlin; Mallard — Capt. Charlie Palmer, Lois Palmer; Chance — Capt. George Merry, Lois Merry and Pete Fredrickson; Brandy — Capt. Bob Paterson, Maggie Paterson.

Most of Sunday was spent on the first half of the annual weight-lifting contest — hauling and stepping masts for the passage under the Shinnecock Bridges and through the Canal; the second half coming on the return trip. A portion of the fleet — Golden Eagle, Morning Star, Extra Dry, Maumac and Sassenach — headed for the open seas, via Shinnecock Inlet, and put in at Montauk after a bounding run off shore.

Sebonic Harbor — famous for the tern serenade at dawn — was the destination after the trip through the Canal. On Monday, the fleet set out under sail for a quiet run to Threemile Harbor — quiet for all but the last half-hour when a heading rain squall hit a number of boats trying to sail all the way through Threemile's narrow entrance. However, once the wind dropped and the crews had a chance to wring out wet clothes, "Honest John" Beinert's Bumboat Service fetched lobsters for all the fleet, including the boats from Montauk who had rejoined.

The next morning dawned fair, cool, and Northwest. Rather than sail to Montauk, the fleet decided to laze around Gardners Bay and put in at Coeccles Harbor for dinner at the Ram's Head Inn. A number of boats took off for Mystic, Connecticut and reported such a worthwhile trip, this historic town has been proposed as a port of call for the 1957 Cruise.

Deering Harbor and Greenport for supplies were first on the schedule the next morning (Wednesday), followed by a rendezvous off Long Beach Point, near Orient. This isolated pebble beach offers one of the best swimming and steak-roasting points on the Cruise. The beach party that night was enlivened by Mesdames Becker's and Cain's gigantic, hand-built and decorated cocktail table and by the return from Connecticut of George Merry and his ukulele-playing brother-in-law.

Thursday the fleet split again, with part heading toward Montauk and the rest back through Peconic Bay for Sebonic where the Catboats played host for cocktails and another beach party was enjoyed by all hands.

The ritual of the masts was performed uneventfully at Shinnecock the next day and the whole fleet rejoined for a rendezvous at Westhampton, with the smaller boats rafted together for a joint birthday celebration for Gloria Cain and Stu Paterson.

Saturday the weather, which had threatened on and off all week, finally broke loose with a wild blow and rain from the Southeast. The fleet was nailed to the bottom at Westhampton for a good part of the day, before it could put out for Bellport and dinner at the Wyandotte.

The sail back up the Bay on Sunday was calm, quiet and marked only by regret the Cruise was coming to a close.

SIXTH ANNUAL WEST ISLAND RACE - JULY 28

A light, but steady Southwesterly blew for the West Island Race which attracted a record-breaking fleet of 55 yachts. The fleet about split on the decision to round West Island from the East or the West, but there was no disagreement on the rendezvous after the race in Great River. A number of craft stayed overnight, and it is hoped that this season, more will make this a regular fixture in their cruising plans.

Winning boats in the race were: Ed Prince with Katydid in Class A; John Beinert in Lady Lou V in Class B; Ev Seidenberg in Errant in Class C; and John McInerney in Ellen in Class X. In the invitation section for out-and-out racing craft, Phil Linker won with his Beetle Cat, Scarab; and Bob Tarr, Jr., in his Tarr Baby won the Blue Jay contest. The Schur Memorial Trophy for perseverance, given to the last boat to finish, was collected by Charlie Heywood.

GSBYRA Race Week

The traditional Race Week of the Great South Bay Yacht Racing Association was highlighted by the appearance of 15 Cruising Club boats participating in a series of three races at the end of the week, off Bay Shore and Babylon. Again light weather prevailed for two of the series, but the final race provided the Bay's usual blustery Southwester. Commodore Henry Post's Golden Eagle took first honors in the series, followed by Paul Ketcham's Betty.

Final Standings for the 3-race series were:

- 1. Golden Eagle; 2. Betty; 3. Refrain; 4. Pools; 5. Gull; 6. Reverie; 7. Maumac; 8. Sumaka II; 9. Errant; 10. Nancee; 11. Spindrift; 12. Falcon; 13. Lady Lou V; 14. Brandy.

FOULKE MEMORIAL TROPHY RACE

The night race, from Babylon to Bellport and return was sailed in record time by the entire fleet, with a booming Southwester that picked up to a reported 35 knots in the knockdowns. Most of the fleet had finished the race and were back at the start before time was available to break out any of the refreshments and chicken salad.

Ed Dannemiller in Tranquil took overall fleet honors and also won in Class C. Jack Young's Reverie was first to finish in the fleet.

Results were: Class A. 1. Maumac; 2. Reverie; 3. Golden Eagle; 4. Lorelei; 5. Morning Star; 6. Periwinkle; Extra Dry; Katydid; Sas-senach (DNF).
Class B. 1. Shrimp; 2. Spindrift; 3. Cataumet; 4. Amberjack; 5. Blue Teal; Lady Lou V (DNF).
Class C. 1. Tranquil; 2. Halcyon; 3. Brandy; 4. Manx; Chiquita (DNF).
Class X. 1. Vixen; 2. Gail; 3. Alabab; Three Sisters (DNF).

COMMODORE'S CUP SERIES

Labor Day weekend saw more than 25 craft participating in the two races and the overnight rendezvous at Smith Point and Great River. All events, except the sunlit sail home on Labor Day, were dripping in fog. Winners in the series of two races — Babylon to Bellport on Saturday, and the Smith Trophy race off Sayville on Sunday — were determined by the boats posting the best corrected time for both races. Winners were: Class A: Mac Boettger in Maumac; Class B: John Beinert in Lady Lou V; Class C: Ed Dannemiller in Tranquil; and Class X: Joe Tooker in Alabab.

Complete series results were:

Class A. 1. Maumac; 2. Lorelei; 3. Extra Dry; 4. Reverie; 5. Trade Winds; 6. Edput II; 7. Golden Eagle; 8. Katydid; 9. Mary Clyde; 10. Diana; 11. Gull.

CHILDRENS' DAY - SEPTEMBER 9

The turnout at Whirlpool Point was, as usual, large, noisy and happily disorganized. The regular number of hot dogs got dropped in the sand and were eaten with gusto anyway. This event for the little people and their aging elders proves, year after year, to be one of the most successful on the schedule.

LADIES' DAY RACE - SEPTEMBER 23

Probably the best race of the season, from the Jib-tenders and Boozefetchers Union (otherwise known as the Association of Captains' Ladies) was the Ladies' Day Race, which is immortalized by Hervey Garret Smith on another page in this yearbook. At any rate, a number of craft moved surprisingly fast in the light air, held the wind perfectly, and displayed exceedingly sharp racing tactics. It will be interesting to see exactly who is racing the boat this summer.

First places were garnered by Mesdames Lawrence on Lorelei, Class A; Berdolt on Refrain in Class B; Brayshaw on Sea Witch in Class C; and Thayer on Papoose in Class X.

Results were: Class A. 1. Lorelei; 2. Maumac; 3. Extra Dry; 4. Golden Eagle; 5. Snark; 6. Morning Star; 7. Trade Winds; 8. Sassenach; 9. Reverie.

Class B. 1. Refrain; 2. Lady Lou V; 3. Spindrift; 4. Windsong; 5. Black Duet; 6. Lorraine; 7. Sea Rover; 8. Ramper.

Class C. 1. Sea Witch; 2. Chiquita; 3. Brandy; 4. Cygnet; 5. Semiramis; 6. Secret; 7. Tranquil; 8. Seafarer.

Class X. 1. Papoose; 2. Gail; 3. Alabab.

FIDDLERS' GREEN

by McAlpin Brown

I like to think of sailor's heaven — known to sailors as Fiddlers' Green — a place where the sound of soft-breaking waves is always in one's ears — no gales or heavy winds to face — no anchor chains to chip or white paint to scrub on a cold morning with gritty sand and a piece of stiff canvas — no decks to sluice down or holystone in the cold of a four-to-eight watch.

None of that. Just sitting around swapping yarns on a ship that is everlastingly clean — where white paint and brasswork are always bright and shining — yet never a man is seen with paint brush or brass polish — where one always has full and plenty to feed on — and an awning to doze under and smoke — or make ship models — fancy knots — canvas covers for one's sea chest — good books to read and good tobacco to smoke.

Strange seas to sail on — new lands to discover — and always a soft wind to take us there. Fiddlers' Green — where sex is unknown and its place filled by comradeship. I sure hope it will be Fiddlers' Green for me when I up anchor for the last time!
